

Zeppelin participates in International Congress on Military Medicine

The 37th International Congress on Military Medicine was held in Tunis on May 20-25, 2007 with medical experts of approximately 100 Armed Forces from all over the world. The Congress was also accompanied by an industrial exhibition, in which Zeppelin as one of the leading manufacturers of mobile medical systems was also present.

The Congress offered the possibility to present the company's medical solutions such as mobile clinics, mobile field hospitals, ambulances or special product developments as e.g. a MedEvac shelter to a wide audience. Nowhere else, you can find such a high concentration of military medical experts and also decision-makers and reach a large international distribution at the same time.

